

It is my understanding that implementation of these rules may result in TSA airport security-like screenings of passengers and vehicles using Washington State Ferries with attendant restrictions. Washington State Ferries are an extension of our highways and are vital to those of us who live and work in Western Washington. Their ease of use is as vital to us as the Interstate Highway system is to all Americans. If restrictive measures are applied to our ferries, will similar restrictions be also applied to our other highways? I hope not. I am opposed to intrusive airport screening-like security measures for or ferries.
